Chapter 22 Harvest Festivals

People celebrate harvest festivals to show how much they value food grown on the land. Do you know what is harvest? Let us find out.

1. A farmer first sows the seeds.

2. He then waters the crops.

3. He protects his crops from insects.

4. When the crops are ready, he cuts and gathers them. This is called harvesting.

5. These crops are then sent to the market.

6. They are then sent to the shops from where we can buy them.

Let us read about some famous harvest festivals.

Onam

Onam is a famous harvest festival. Let us see what people do at the time of Onam.

boat racing

rangoli making

dancing

Lohri

Lohri is a famous festival where people offer gur, rewari and roasted peanuts to the fire God. They pray around the bonfire and sing songs.

Bihu

Bihu is an important harvest festival of India. People enjoy good food and light the Meji (bon fire) and pray for a better harvest.

Decorate the mask using glitter, buttons and colours.

Where have you seen this face? Find out with the help of an elder.
